COUNTY SEAT DAY AT THE EXPOSITION

Last Saturday afternoon a meeting of the women of Ukiah was held at the City Hall, at the request of the city trustees, to arrange for county seat day which is to be celebrated at the Exposition on September 18th. Mrs. Louise Atkins, Vice President of the Mendocino County Association in San Francisco, presided and informed the audience how the members of the San Francisco Society, loyal to their old home, are devoting their time and planning to make this event the equal if not the greatest of the county seat days at the fair. This society is not composed of former residents of Ukiah exclusively, neither is this to be Ukiah Day but County Seat Day and it is hoped that every good citizen in Mendocino County will respond, heart and soul, and assist in making the event a grand success. H. B. Smith, of the town board of trustees, also addressed the large assemblage of ladies, who in spite of it being Saturday, an unusually busy day for housewives, turned out to help boost for the object of the meeting and offer their help in arranging for its celebration. Mr. Smith, a good suffragette, expressed himself as more than willing to have the ladies of Ukiah and other sections of the county take charge of the plans and told of the necessity of bringing before the people the fact that Mendocino County's county seat, a prosperous and enterprising town, was on the map and the legislative center of one of the greatest sections in California. That the army of boosters who had helped to have the multifarious advantages of the county represented and advertised at the Fair, should also give their time and service to furthering this enterprise and makthe County Seat Day a notable holiday on September the eighteenth. He stated that the town trustees were willing to stand good for any reasonable amount of money which it would be necessary to incur but that it would also be necessary for every citizen in the county to come forward with his or her offering, such as fruit and other distinctive products of the county and show a willingness to boost and make the affair a success. Mr. Smith is also arranging for a reasonable railway rate, permitting a three days' stay in the city and time for taking in the Exposition, so that everyone who has not been able to visit the Fair will have a chance to do so at this time and also be present and participate in the celebration and parade on County Seat Day. Acting chairman, Mrs. Atkins, appointed a committee of ladies to plan ways and means for conducting the affair, consisting of Mrs. Wm. Bromley, chairman, Mrs. John Brown, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Louis Hofman, Recording Secretary, Mrs. J. Liftchild, Press Correspondent, Mrs. J. K. Keller, Assistant to L. C. Crawford in interviewing farmers and soliciting fruit for distribution on that day, Mrs. Frank Barker and Mrs. Ted Young. These women are very enthusiastic and call upon all the women of Ukiah to act as one great committee, giving whatever service they possibly can and to meet at the City Hall on Saturday August 21st.

SLOGAN CONTEST
Chance to Win Five Dollars

The committee in charge of arrangements for the celebration of County Seat Day have decided to give a prize of five dollars for the best slogan, of not more than five words, which will best describe and advertise the County Seat of Mendocino County. Contestants will submit mottos, such as "Watch Ukiah Grow," on some simple geometrical design, to the committee not later than August 26th. Address all communications to Mrs. Frank Barker The name of the successful prize winner will be announced at the mass meeting of the Ladies County Seat Day Association, which will be held on the afternoon of August 28th, at the City Hall.

LEON L. GROVER LEAVES ON A VISIT TO SEATTLE

Circumstances Surrounding Departure Lead Us To Believe That Mr. Grover Contemplates Marriage

Leon L. Grover, one of the prosperous young ranchers of Potter valley section, was a visitor here this week. While here Mr. Grover stated that he was enroute for San Francisco and after a short business visit would make a trip to Seattle. We noticed that Mr. Grover was quite nervous and did not wish to enter into any details about his present trip. After a few questions put to him we finally decided from his demeanor that he was going to enter the matrimonial world and that he would return to the farm in about two weeks accompanied by a helpmate.

NEW MANAGEMENT FOR HOTEL CECILLE

LANDLORD MARKS SECURES POSSESSION FROM TENANT AFTER STIFF CONTEST — WILL NOW CONDUCT SAME.

Business at the Hotel Cecille in this city practically suspended from Saturday of last week until Wednesday and has hardly yet resumed its usual course. The building is owned by H. Marks and, until Wednesday, was in the possession of Mrs. M. Frumkin as tenant under a lease from Mr. Marks. Some trouble developed the latter part of the week concerning the payment of rent under the lease and on Saturday Mr. Marks took, or attempted to take, possession of the building, claiming that the rent for July was not paid and that the August rent was also due and unpaid.

The owner's agent, Jack Payne, did not secure possession without difficulty; in fact, he got only a kind of divided possession with Mrs. Frumkin and her husband, the manager of the hotel. On the same day, Mr. Marks caused attachment to be levied on all of the stock of liquors, cigars and similar goods in the bar and the sheriff took them into possession, thus effectually closing that part of the business.

Mr. Frumkin managed to continue the operation of the hotel and dining room until Monday, but on that day the landlord brought suit to foreclose a chattel mortgage which he held on the furniture. In this suit, the Court appointed J. S. Love Receiver and commanded him to take possession of all of the furniture and hold it until the further order of the Court. Frumkin did not oppose Love's possession of the furniture but insisted that he must take it out of the hotel.

Meanwhile, trouble developed over the liquor license for the hotel bar, which was issued to I. Frumkin and which authorized him to conduct business until October 1st. On Saturday night, Mr. Marks applied to the Board of Trustees for a license in his name when it was found that under the ordinance no more than eight licenses could be issued and that Frumkin held the eighth. The Board postponed action on Marks' application and when the sheriff moved the stock of liquors out on Monday afternoon, Marks again applied to the Board, claiming that Frumkin had certainly ceased business. The latter, however, had watched his opportunity and when the sheriff moved out he had moved into the barroom, secured a small counter for a bar, a couple of bottles of liquor and a couple of glasses and announced that he was conducting business at the old stand. The Board, therefore could not see that the business had ceased and postponed further consideration of the new application.

Matters continued for a day or so with the sheriff in possession of the stock, receiver Love in charge of the furniture, Frumkin in the barroom and Payne and Frumkin playing hide and seek as to the possession of the rest of the house, all business being suspended, except Frumkin's barroom. Wednesday evening, however, the warring hosts got together and patched up a truce and a working agreement, whose terms have not been made public. Landlord Marks is now in possession of the whole works and announces that the Hotel Cecille will be hereafter conducted by him in a manner second to no hotel north of San Francisco.

EDITOR W. O. WHITE IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Stricken with Appendicitis While Out Hunting.

News from the bedside of Editor W. O. White as we go to press this morning is to the effect that he is in a very serious condition and just about holding his own. Mr. White was suddenly stricken with appendicitis last Sunday while on a hunting trip, and his many friends who have heard of his sickness have been on the anxious seat as to the outcome.

RESIDENCE IS BURGLARIZED

A. B. Shearer, who lives on West Smith street, reports upon his return from a visit to the exposition this week he found that his house had been entered and several articles of value taken. The doors had been broken down and the house thoroughly ransacked. Besides losing several jars of fruit and minor articles, he also lost some guns which he prized very highly as relics of the war.

DEATH OF MRS. CLOW

Mrs. J. C. Clow of Signal Ridge, near Greenwood, passed away at the Langland hospital in this city last Saturday afternoon after an illness of several weeks. Besides the husband deceased leaves four daughters and a son, Miss Mabel Clow of Fort Bragg, Mrs. George Reilly of Christine, Mrs. Roy Bunch of Elk, Mrs. Ed Berry of Boonville, and Arnold Clow. Mrs. Clow was 59 years of age and enjoyed the respect and esteem of everybody who knew her.

PEARS BEING SHIPPED

The pear growers throughout the valley have been busy this week hauling this season's crop for shipment. The price ranges from $17.50 to $27.50. The latter price calls for nothing but the best, and not many tons have been purchased at that figure. This grade is shipped in refrigerator cars.

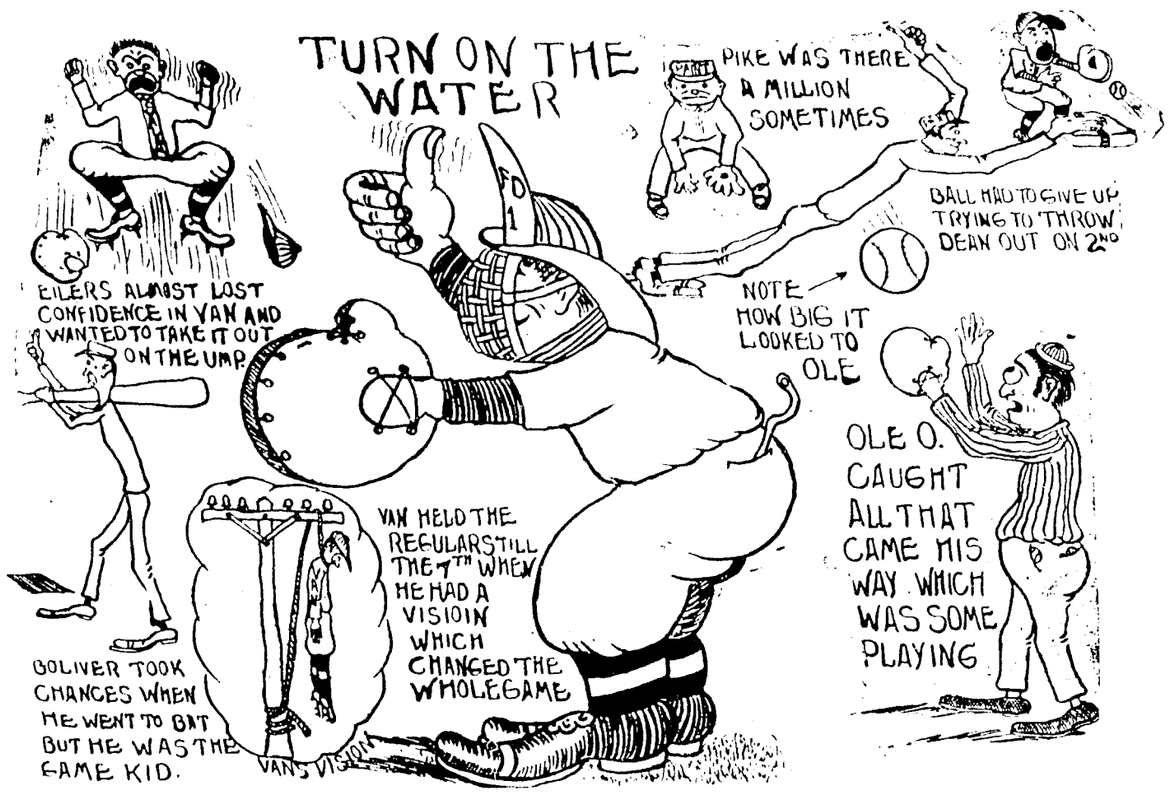
YOUNG PEAR ORCHARDS IN REDWOOD VALLEY

On a recent visit to the Redwood Valley section by a Press reporter, special attention was drawn to the large acreage planted to Bartlett pears, and especially on the west side of the valley a number of these young orchards were noticed. One in particular was that of O. P. Wells, one of the progressive ranchers of that section. Mr. Wells has made a thorough study of the pear culture as is evidenced by the splendid young orchard of about a thousand trees which were planted about a year ago and have made a growth equivalent to two years time. Mr. Wells has been a resident of Redwood Valley for about two years, and being familiar with all classes of land for fruit growing believes that that valley has a brilliant prospect to become one of the largest pear producing sections in the state, and his orchard especially is a credit to that section. He finds that the method of blasting for planting the trees has proved the most satisfactory.

Mr. Brown, whose ranch is a short distance from the Wells' property, has also a young pear orchard and intends planting several more acres next spring. Besides these young orchards of both of these gentlemen, they have farming and range land, but believe that in a few years that pears will far eclipse anything else that has ever been planted.

DEATH OF AN INFANT

The five months old child of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Johnson, who live on the Weldon place north of town, died Saturday evening. The little fellow had been ill for some time. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved parents.



SIDELIGHTS ON THE BALL GAME

FIRE LADDIES WERE NOT UP TO FORM

The Ukiah baseball team will play the Willits nine on the local diamond Sunday. Willits has been playing some ball of late and "Red" will have to give his boys several workouts if Ukiah wishes to win. The Littlelake boys defeated Fort Bragg last Sunday by a score of 3 to 0 and now claim the championship of the county.

The Ukiah team defeated the local firemen by a score of 8 to 0 Sunday. The firemen played a good game up to the seventh inning when the score was 0 to 0, but blew up then. Dean Van Voast, who played first also done well on second, just standing between the two bags and reaching both ways. He is good on the hurdling of the alfalfa in the outfield. Ed Eversole played somewhere out there in the grass, but Ed should wear blinkers as he is troubled with the frights when the ball comes his way. Oscar Olsen was the star of the day for the firemen, having caught three flies without moving out of his tracks. Frank Roberts, who played second, should not be overlooked, as he is liable to develop into a good ball player with more workouts. Frank needs schooling at the home plate, as he was left at the barrier several times by Pitcher Ball. Roy Lowe pulled up lame in the early stages of the game and had to be scratched. All bets were declared off during the game when Van failed to fan Ball as many times as he had contemplated. Fred Chalfant was badly cut down when he was spiked by a runner. Fred pulled up very lame. Van Dyke and Eilers bumped on the first base turn and Van was knocked completely off his feet and out of the running. "Heavy" Ford played like an old leaguer, and although more suitable to a short distance, managed to make third at one time. "Bally" Rains was right on the job, and although somewhat in the back ground, managed to give the high sign when his voice grew hoarse.

The game was well attended and everybody enjoyed the afternoon's sport, as many of the firemen had not faced the barrier for several years and their maneuvers were somewhat amusing. After the game bronco busting was in evidence and many witnessed some well-trained bucking horses, besides some regular broncos who twisted quite badly under their riders.

REGARDING ALIEN PAYMENTS

Treasurer Johnson received a little reminder this week from his bondsmen to be cautious in regard to the payment of public money to aliens in anywise employed by city, county or state work. Many aliens are employed upon the roads throughout the couty, while the state highway is nearly all worked by that class of labor.

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF NORTHERN MENDOCINO DIES

Widely Known Property Holder and Prominent Business Man Succumbs After Lingering Illness.

The funeral of Harry Ramsey, who died at Piedmont last Saturday, was held in Berkeley Monday. Mr. Ramsey was called by death after a suffering of several months with cancer of the stomach. Deceased was 54 years of age and came from Nevada to this county where he located in the northern part, his holdings amounting to about 12,000 acres of range land besides being a large holder in the Laytonville Mercantile Company and the Laytonville hotel. He was also a stock holder in the Willits Commercial Bank. Mr. Ramsey was known as one of the leading men of the northern part of the county and owing to his financial standing, did much to build up and advance that section.

Besides a widow and two daughters, two brothers, Bladen Ramsey of Trinity county and Thomas Ramsey of Reno, survive him, besides numerous other relatives throughout the state.

Mrs. Porterfield will also visit several schools while on the trip.

ONE BALE OF HOPS AT 20 CENTS PER LB

The highest price of the season for hops was paid Tuesday when Bob Madison brought the first bale of 1915 hops to town and sold them to Milton Wasserman at 20 cents a pound. The hops were from the Madison & Ballard ranch, and of high quality, says the Santa Rosa Republican of Wednesday.

This is the custom each year by several of the buyers around Santa Rosa to bid on the first bale of hops on the market and in no way tends to show that the beer blossoms are advancing, which would be welcome news to all. This particular bale was shipped from Sacramento where picking is now going on.

The market is quiet here and only one sale has been made this week, when the entire 1915 crop of John Burgess and Mr. Leard in Potter Valley was sold to F. C. Albertson, local agent for C. C. Donnovan, for 12½ cents per pound. It is stated that the growers around Santa Rosa are holding out for fifteen cents.

It will be at least two weeks before picking will commence in the majority of the fields in this locality. There seem to be no scarcity of pickers this year and many are already camped in the fields awaiting the opening of the season.

BLAZE AT WILLITS DESTROYS POOLROOM

WILLITS, Aug. 11.—Last Tuesday morning at about two o'clock the pool room of Sacry Brothers was burned. The origin of the fire is unknown. A. Sacry states that he left the room at one o'clock. Shortly afterward night-watchman Eberhardt saw smoke rising from the rear of of the building. The vigorous ringing of the fire alarm soon brought the fire laddies and about all of the other residents to the rescue; but the flames had gained so much headway before being discovered that nothing was saved except the cash register and one show case. Mr. Sacry leased some time ago.
had just got in a new supply preparatory to moving into the Mohn building. The loss is about $3500 with $700 insurance. The building, owned by J. Westphalen had no insurance. The adjoining buildings, occupied by the Westphalen and Mayfield Toggery, the Model Bakery and the Majestic Theatre were all considerably damaged. No show was given in the Majestic Tuesday night and today was moved into the Colonial theatre building, which Mr. Westphalen had

WASHINGTON LETTERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Not solely or chiefly for the purpose of disposing of surplus stocks is the "dumping" policy practiced by European countries; it is a recognized method of keeping their factories running at 100 per cent efficiency, thus reducing the unit cost of production to a minimum. Having supplied the domestic and continental trade at the lowest unit cost, there remains, as a result of this high rate of efficiency, a large accumulation of surplus stocks the disposal of which is undertaken at little or no profit. This adds heavily to the disadvantages under which American factories are placed, for the Democratic tariff law makes this country the dumping ground for these surplus stocks. It has been estimated that this handicap amounts to 30 per cent because of difference in cost, 20 per cent by reason of elimination of profits, and 15 per cent because of inferior quality of many foreign-made goods—a handicap far too great for any factory employing American conditions successfully to overcome.

It is apparent, therefore, that a tariff law which encourages such a high rate of factory efficiency abroad, by supplying a market here for surplus stocks, does just that much toward increasing the unit cost of the American article at home, because of decreased output of the American factory which is obliged to meet this cut-throat competition. The efficiency of the foreign factory is increased at the expense of the efficiency of our domestic concern. The American mill closes and the American laborer sits on the park bench and waits for the soup cart.

It was to meet such conditions that Canada enacted what is known as the "anti-dumping clause," which has done away with most of the paralyzing effects of dumping. This clause provides that goods of a class or kind made in Canada are subject to special duty when sold for exportation to Canada at a less price than for home consumption in the country of export, whether such goods be otherwise free of duty or subject to specific or ad valorem duty.

A half-hearted attempt was made by the Democratic House when the Underwood law was being debated, to apply a dumping duty to articles on the dutiable list. The Republicans argued that it should also apply to the free list because many articles not subject to duty would be dumped in this country in unfair competition with domestic production. When the bill got to the Senate the whole dumping clause was thrown out, and should the end of the war find this country still burdened with a Democratic tariff law, we would be at the mercy of the industrial syndicates which will be organized all over Europe.

At the close of business Saturday, July 31, the net balance in the general fund of the United States Treasury was $68,173,462 as compared with a balance of $132,263,619 two years ago under Republican laws and appropriations. At the end of the first month of the new fiscal year, the disbursements had exceeded the receipts by $16,171,757, which is the amount of deficit accumulated during July.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 11.—Democratic carelessness has raised a doubt as to the integrity of the law taxing future sales of cotton and has thrown the statute into the courts.

A suit has been brought in the federal courts to test the constitutionality of the act, on the ground that it is a revenue measure originating in the Senate.

The title declares that it is "an act to tax the privilege of dealing on exchanges, boards of trade and similar places in contracts on the sale of cotton for future delivery."

It was introduced by Senator Smith of South Carolina, and was first passed by the Senate, the House afterwards approving the Senate bill with amendments. Section 3 of the act provides that "upon any contract of sale of any cotton for future delivery made on any exchange, etc., there is hereby lovied a tax of two cents for each pound of cotton included in such contract."

The administration of the law is delegated to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Section 7, article 1 of the constitution provides that "all bills raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives."

It is on this section of the constitution that the plaintiffs in the suit rely together with the claim that he Smith bill was in the class referred to in the constitutional requirement and the fact that the law was first passed by the Senate.

The courts may or may not decide the case in favor of the government. The fact remains that by the exercise of ordinary care and forethought, the Democrats could have prevented all doubt and litigation on this point by the simple expedient of first passing the measure in the House.

Their failure to exercise such care still further contributes to the increasing evidence of Democratic slovenliness and inefficiency.

HIGH SCHOOL SEPTEMBER SIXTH

The date of the opening of the high school has been changed from August 30th to September 6th. This was done in order that a large number of students who wished to have a couple of weeks picking hops may do so, as picking will commence about the 25th inst.

GONE ON HUNTING TRIP

Cashier Arthur Tracy in company with Walter Tracy, left this week for a hunting trip on the former's ranch in the Cummings section. During the absence of Mr. Tracy Louis Ray will attend to the duties as cashier at the bank, assisted by Chester McKay.

"As it now appears, the big task confronting the resolutions committee of the next Republican national convention will not be the framing of a declaration on the tariff. The country will await with far more interest what is proposed in connection with our foreign relations." The foregoing is the opinion of the Cleveland Plain Dealer (Dem.). But we fancy the Republican National Convention will have no difficulty in dealing with the question. The Republican Party is coming back into power. It will bring back with it a foreign policy such as was practiced by Seward, by Blaine, by John Hay, and by Elihu Root. That's all the platform need to say on the subject. The country will understand and endorse a declaration like that. And so will the Plain Dealer, 'way down in the bottom of its heart.

The Treasury Department has ordered a further withdrawal of Government funds from the national bank depositaries, and by the end of this month more than eight millions will have been thus transferred from the local banks to the regional reserve banks. The government will lose the two per cent interest which it now receives on these deposits, but it is believed that the transfer will have the effect of forcing the national banks to rediscount their commercial paper with the regional reserve banks. This would enable the reserve bank system to pay expenses, which it has never yet been able to do. But it can hardly be argued that a banking system which requires artificial forcing of this kind to make it profitable is altogether an unmixed success.

Theodore Douglas Robinson, once chairman of the Progressive State Committee of New York and always nephew of the Colonel, advised all Progressives in York State to enroll with the Republicans this year upon the ground that the advanced principles which they espouse "can best be carried forward through the medium of the Republican party." This is sound common sense. It has already been put into practice by most Progressives and in 1916 there will be no Republican division which will again put a minority party in control of national affairs.

As one contribution toward the fulfillment of the Democratic promise to reduce the high cost of living, the Bureau of Mines announces that it can now produce radium for only $36,050 per gram. This will enable the impoverished speculators in "war order" securities to have radium on their tables at least once a day, and will be of tremendous encouragement to workers in other enterprises who are now on reduced time, lower wages or laid off altogether.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Byron is reported in the Washington Herald of July 29th as saying that there was a working balance in the treasury of $125,000,000. That assertion must have been made July 28th. The statement for that date shows that the net balance in the general fund was $65,793,048.65. Either Mr. Newton was sadly mistaken, or the Democrats contemplate a raid on the gold reserve fund.

The Republican argument against free trade is well given by Representative Humphrey of Washington, who said: "Under free trade you stop production. You stop the demand. You throw men out of employment and stop the payment of wages. You paralyze the entire industrial system of the country, and under a Democratic administration you can neither buy at home or abroad. Cheap goods are of no value to the idle without money."

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Three years ago yesterday, August 5, 1912, the Progressive party was born in Chicago.

"On the third anniversary of the Progressive party I have nothing to say," Theodore Roosevelt said.

INTERESTING POINTS FROM NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The big guns are booming thus early in the fight for the Republican nomination for President a year hence. Senator Burton had hardly declared his candidacy when Senator Root aimed his 42-centimeter and hit the reactionries in a speech that sounded as Progressive as any Roosevelt proclamation.

"The time has come," he said, "whene invisible government must give way to government that is accountable and responsible."

Whether or not the Colonel sues for infringement of copyright, he declares he'll enroll next month as a Progressive, even if his nephew, former State Chairman of the Progressive party, is breaking the speed laws trying to get back into the G. O. P.

Most of the Progressives are standing fast in their allegiance to their new party, heartened by the cogent reasoning of Bainbridge Colby and the sturdy steadfastness of George W. Perkins. They rather enjoy the idea of holding the balance of power in 1916, even if they know they can't elect a President.

The ending of a full year of war has brought out in the newspapers summaries that stagger the human mind. With the roll of the dead made up of 2,225,000 names and 8,770,000 men wounded in the twelve months, and with $15,500,000,000 spent to produce such results, the cost of war in lives and money is seen to be too great to permit any one to think lightly of America becoming involved.

The published reviews coincide in admitting that Germany has made such progress that it should win, but they go on to say that Germany can't win because England can't permit it. But more will depend on England's power than on her wishes, as is now realized, judging from dispatches from the British capital. The outcome will certainly depend upon whether the Allies stick together, and latest developments in Poland have raised a large doubt as to how long Russia will persist in a losing war.

Several distinct shocks were produced by the execution of Becker, the police lieutenant who was convicted of instigating the murder of Rosenthal, the squealing gambler. The whole underworld was shocked, for what safety can there be for buyers of protection if police sellers of that commodity can be electrocuted. The shock to the "system," that combination of grafting policemen and politicians was intense. But decent, law-abiding citizens were shocked, too, for the public was by no means satisfied of Becker's guilt, nor was it reconciled to the propriety of his appeal for clemency being passed upon by the man who as district attorney convicted him. But whatever feeling was aroused against Governor Whitman was obliterated by the indecent attacks made upon him by the family of the executed man in connection with the funeral.

Calm has fallen upon the public mind after weeks of industrial fomented agitation. Only the "Times" and a few other newspapers of similar bias continue to try to extract trouble from the last note to Germany. The man in the street refuses to be disturbed. He simply won't get wrought up to war pitch, and that is all there is to it. He can't if he would, see why this country should be driven to a break with any other nation. And he wouldn't see it if he could. This is the temper of the New York public.

The average man is quite well satisfied to back up the President's assertions of American rights with respect to German submarine warfare and British orders in council, and is quite confident that if the President will take counsel of Congress, there will be no trouble on either score.

The Iberian incident throws a sidelight on the situation. The British captain refused to stop when hailed by the submarine commander, and three Americans in the crew went down. They had put themselves voluntarily in danger and even though the president refuses to warn Americans to keep off British boats, as Secretary Bryan advised, there is no thought of making an issue of this incident.

Of course it is a principle with the President to guard Americans wherever they may be, except in Mexico, but in practice principles are subject to modification. And it is to be remembered that England did not get into any fuss in the time of the Russo-Japanese war when her subjects went poking their noses into trouble.

As for industry—the courts have just disposed of a teller who patiently substituted pennies for nickels in the bank's money bags until he had netted $32.000 and earned a prison term. It was some job involving the handling of 1,600,000 coins while nobody was looking into his cage. Now he has time to figure out whether it was worth while.

It is something really new in municipal administration to have the Health Commissioner making active and insistent war upon the use of liquor; but Dr. Goldwater is going after John Barleycorn and all his tribe, hammer and tongs.

There is keen disappointment over the new British note. Delayed for four months and then held for a postscript, because the American Eagle showed his claws, this document is an amazing example of the use of words to conceal thought and it reveals the purpose of the British Government to maintain a maximum of interference with neutral commerce and to try to throw all disputes over into the dim future for adjustment after the war is ended. Of course Washington can not permit this, and will not.

With 400 importers crying for $170,000,000 worth of American-owned goods tied up in Holland, and with exporters deprived even of their markets in neutral countries, the Government will have to do something and the demand is increasing for the convening of Congress.

The official figures are coming out showing that while the war is booming some lines of American production, it is blighting other branches of industry. Thus a gain of $22,000,000 in eleven months in automobiles sold abroad is offset by a loss of $21,000,000 in agricultural implements. A gain of $11,000,000 in metal-working machinery is contrasted with a loss of $46,000,000 in copper manufactures. A gain of $23,500,000 in sole leather and shoes is offset by a loss of $39,000,000 in lumber products.

Now these losses are due in part to the effect of war on demand, but in still larger part to the effect of the illegal long distance blockade on American exports. And here's the rub.

Now the women are to have their own City Club to deal with municipal problems and to form a centre of civic interests for the women of the metropolis. Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, Miss Alice Carpenter and Dr. Katharine B. Davis, commissioner of corrections, are among the leaders of the movement.

Really 21 big railroads having been defeated in their campaign against the "full crew" laws, have discovered that the fault is in themselves, in their inveterate opposition to publicity. Now they have decided to seek publicity as eagerly and as unblushingly as does the average chorus girl.

Americans felt very powerful the other morning when the "Times" showed that there are in this country 17,000,000 able-bodied men capable of serving in an army. But only 61 out of every 10,000 have had any military training!

When one comes to think of it the British Empire, with 438,000,000 population, ought to have over 70,000,000 available men, but Great Britain, unprepared, cuts a sorry figure against an empire one-sixth its own size, and Russia, unprepared, is fleeing before the armies of a nation of much less than half its population.

"Is America learning this lesson?" the real American papers are asking.

New York City at the beginning of the year had 1,167 fire horses as against 2000 three years ago. In another year there will be none, for motor driven apparatus is being substituted for horse drawn as fast as Commissioner Adamson can get the money to buy the new equipment. Speed and efficiency are not the only factors in the change. It costs $200 a year to keep a motor in order and $900 to feed and stable the three horses needed to each engine.

The creation of an American merchant marine was a big issue in the last Congress, but the President's plan was brought to naught. Now Great Britain is planning a line through the Panama Canal to the west coast of South America, and the American Trans-Atlantic Company has gathered up eleven neutral vessels and put them under the American flag. The latter announcement caused some mild excitement because of the rumor that Mr Stinnes of Essen, Germany, supplied the capital. But why worry about that?

Conservative men in Wall Street are seeking to check the wild and dangerous speculation in "war babies"—the stocks, such as Bethlehem steel, that show temporary gains altogether out of proportion to the highly profitable but short-lived business of supplying the Allies with munitions of war. When such a stock is run up to $275 for a $100 share, the speculators are giving it a wholly fictitious value, for even if the war should last three years, which it will not, the extra business in that period would not justify an increase of 175 per cent in capitalization.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

TEN CALVES ADDED TO U. S. BISON HERD

The government's herd of buffalo on the Wachita National Forest in Oklahoma, which is also a Federal game preserve, has been increased by the arrival of ten calves, according to a report received by the Forest Service from the supervisor in charge. The herd, which now comprises sixty-two specimens of the almost extinct bison is in good condition says the supervisor, and promises to continue increasing at a rapid rate.

Eight of the calves are females, bringing the number of heifers and cows up to thirty. The bulls number thirty-two and have been placed by themselves in a pasture which has just been fenced in for them.

Three years ago the buffalo herd on the Wachita forest was little more than half as large as it is now. It is said that the other game animals in the preserve, including elk, and antelope, also are increasing, due to the protection not only against hunters but against wolves, wild cats, and other predatory animals, which committed serious depredations from the establishment of the preserve in 1905 until measures were taken to stop them. In protecting the game from predatory animals, the wardens and forest officers are also promoting the interests of local stockmen, who graze several thousand herds of cattle on allotted areas within the preserve.

HAYNES CAR FACTORY WILL NOT MOVE

The rumor to the effect that The Haynes Automobile Company of Kokomo, Indiana, is going to move its plant to Lackawanna, New York, a suburb of Buffalo, is erroneous, according to A. G. Seiberling, General Manager of the Company. This report has been published recently in many papers and notwithstanding the fact that it is utterly without foundation, it seems to have gained immediae credence in motor circles.

Kokomo, Indiana, is the original home of the Haynes. In the year 1893, at Kokomo, Elwood Haynes built the first gasoline automobile ever built in America. Since that time, twenty-three years ago, the Haynes cars have always been built in Kokomo and there is no prospect of any future removal of the plant to Buffalo or elsewhere.

A knowledge of the building operations now under way at the Haynes plant in Kokomo would make the falacy of such a rumor obvious to the most casual observer. Since the middle of May two big circus tents on a plot of ground east of the main factory building have been temporarily housing a few of the departments until the completion of the new buildings. The final inspection of the cars before they go to the shipping platform now takes place in these tents. Part of the enormous supply of rough material is also stored out under canvas in order to give more room for the other departments.

A large brick and stone administration building which will contain all the executive offices, is now nearing completion. The space now occupied by the office rooms will be given over to an extension of the machine shop manufacturing the parts of the motor, rear axle, and transmission system. Plans have been drawn for a new four story brick paint shop to be erected immediately, as well as for a new motor assembly to adjoin the present motor testing plant.

These new additions and the tremendous rush of business which is working the plant night and day should make it clear that there is no possibility of a removal of the factory.

VISITOR FROM REDWOOD

G. L. Ticehurst, one of the prominent residents of Redwood Valley, and known to his many friends as the "tree man," was in town Wednesday on a business visit. Mr. Ticehurst derived the name of "tree man" from the fact that he sells fruit trees in that section. He reports that the prospects for a large acreage of pear trees being planted next spring are very bright and that Redwood Valley will become a great pear section in the near future owing to the number of trees which have been planted of recent years by up-to-date methods.

WHEAT EATERS

Conquer the World
Says an Authority

Eating bread isn't the sam as eating wheat, because white flour does not contain ALL the wheat.

There is one breakfast food called "FORCE" that contains all the elements of whole wheat, scientifically blended and cooked with barley malt; then rolled, toasted and flaked.

"FORCE" comes to you fresh and crisp from the factory, in air-tight, dust-prof packages. These packages or cartons, which sell at 15 cents contain enough "FORCE" to make several meals for the average sized family. And yet one hears so much these days about the high cost of living.

A diet of meat means leadership. The progress of the nations prove that wheat eaters conquer the world. "FORCE" is the highest possible attainment in wheat food. It is the most delicious of cereals.

"FORCE" was selected for the American atheletes at the Olympic Games because it is a "perfectly balanced" food, containing all of the elements necessary to build and sustain muscle and strength. "FORCE" is sold by good grocers everywhere. When ordering, insist on "FORCE." Accept no substitutes.

The Clerk Guaranteed It.

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.

"It's pretty hard to find anything better than a good promise well kept."

—Mister Squeegee

Men's greatness is measured, not by the things they promise to do, but by what they accomplish.

So it is with all things in this world.

Many men have announced their intention of doing greater things with electricity than Edison has done.

They have not made their promises good, and Edison remains the wizard of science.

The popularity of Diamond Squeegee Tread Tires is due to their merit in giving cheap mileage and fulfilling service requirements with unvarying regularity.

Great promises are made for other tires—promises that in many cases are never fulfilled.

More than 99% of all Diamond Squeegee Tread Tires exceed the service that is promised for them.

That comes pretty near giving you absolute certainty.
